Kitties are Not
Good to Eat

Cassandra Gelvin

Kitties are not good to eat
They don't make a tasty treat

Though each has a tender nose
They have sharp and pointy toes

Kitties are not good to drink
You can't get them from a sink

They're not liquid, not a drop
They don't make good soda pop

A tongue-in-cheek board book about cats, brought to you by Cassandra Gelvin and 45 of her closest Kickstarter friends!

“This sing-song tour of how NOT to treat a cat, complete with endearing photos of disgruntled felines, is sure to please kids, parents, and their furry overlords alike. The sage advice therein may even serve to avert injuries to toddlers who are still learning the ropes of respectful interspecies interaction.”

—AMANDA Q.

“A clever catalogue of kitties with witty rhymes that would amuse all ages. Good for sharing with little ones.”

—KATE G.
